

ROBOTS WITH A HUMAN TOUCH

MADE POSSIBLE BY MELBOURNE

The University of Melbourne is committed to tackling issues and solving problems to help build a brighter, better future.

Our researchers are developing a robotic prosthetic arm that talks to the brain, giving those who have lost a limb the ability to feel sensations such as strength and pressure.

Join us at Australia's top-ranked university.
about.unimelb.edu.au/careers

THE UNIVERSITY OF MELBOURNE