

Senior Pharmaceutical Physicians - Cambridge, UK or Boston, US

Push science further, help patients more

Science changes how we impact diseases in areas of unmet medical need. We push boundaries of what is possible to transform patient outcomes.

As part of the team, you'll handle clinical trials from test design through to publishing as a drug goes from the bench to bedside. Looking to change the disease process through proof of concept will give your career a unique breadth and depth.

We have a strong focus on Oncology and currently have the following opportunities:

Senior Director Physician – Early Oncology

Director Physician – Early Oncology

Associate Director Physician – Early Oncology

Associate Director Physician – Translational Science (Oncology)

We also recruit Physicians into later phases of development and our other core therapeutic areas: Cardiovascular and Metabolic Disease; Respiratory, Inflammation and Autoimmunity; and Neuroscience.

If you'd relish the prospect of creating life-changing medicines from a fast-growing pipeline, find out more at <https://job-search.astrazeneca.com/eec>

